LEVI'S
BEDROOM

Playful pattern

Geometric prints make the black and white colour palette of Levi's bedroom fun and lively. The Ziggy Zaggy coverlet is from Oh Mabel.

Light & airy

Louvre windows bring plenty of light and ventilation into the master bedroom. The bedlinen is from Abode and Ikea.

BATHROOM

Bathing beauty

The main bathroom is finished in Moorish Night tiles from Jataka Interiors. White fixtures by Caroma and a yellow Tolix stool lift the scheme.

BED, BATH & BEYOND

Kathy's new master bedroom on the second storey is now her favourite place to retreat. "From the top floor, you can really take advantage of the park views," she says. "I don't have a window cover because I adore the views and sunlight streaming into my window each morning. It has such a lovely, tranquil vibe."

Downstairs, the main bathroom features a floor of polished concrete with underfloor heating and a striking scheme of white butcher tiles and black and white feature tiles. Kathy also won the battle to have a floor-to-ceiling mirrored wall in the bathroom with wall-hung basin, toilet and fittings. "John really wanted me to tile that wall," she says. "The special glass was expensive, and it was tricky as you've got to use large pieces of mirror that are strong enough to withstand the strain of the wall-hung features without cracking." Bifold windows above the bath can be pushed back to create a sense of alfresco bathing.
